

Farm and Ranch Umbrella Policy

You have your farm and auto insurance policies in place . . . is there any more protection you may need?

Possibly. As healthcare costs continue to rise, lawsuits become more common and jury awards escalate, your basic policy liability limits might not be large enough to protect you and your family. That's why it makes sense to consider a farm and ranch umbrella policy from Farmers Union Insurance for additional protection

An accident can result in a liability claim that could cost you your farm, car, savings and investments - even a portion of your future earnings. We often hear about liability verdicts and settlements in the high six figures - and above.

Our farm and ranch umbrella can help protect you from such damages.

Our umbrella offers additional coverage above the liability limits in your farm, ranch or auto policies from Farmers Union Insurance.

You can purchase a minimum of one million dollars of extra liability coverage under our umbrella, with certain higher limits available. The cost for such additional security can be surprisingly affordable.

The bottom line: substantially more coverage and more security at little additional cost. Sounds like another good deal from the folks at Farmers Union Insurance. Call your FUI agent today for all the details.
